

Air 1 serves my local community by providing a quality radio program that inspires and uplifts community members. In this very turbulent time, it is a great community service to be able to listen to inspirational christian music in the St. Cloud area. Without Air 1, my community will be left with only commercial radio stations that are filled with more commercials than inspirational music. Air 1's service is most definitely a public service--this radio station helps people in our community find and keep connected to their spirituality. This in turns provides the inspiration to better stewards of our community, committed to helping each other and bettering our little piece of the world.
